

Greetings to the World!
(Chikyuu aisatsu)

Michio Mado

It's morning, it's a Sunday
Look up! It's a clear sky!
Under this the Earth's surface
Extends all the way through
Does it go around behind me too
Where I cannot even see
Carrying all those uncountable living beings...
Come to life! From within me...
Like the beautiful voice of a Japanese Nightingale singing 'Greetings to the World'!
Write write write it in the 'Letters to the World'
Even for the beautiful 'Stamp of the World'
Paste paste paste it by creating them with your very own hands
Making thousand, even ten thousand letters
Covering thousands of kilometers from the mountains to the seas

To that human's child from an unknown land
To that animal's cub from an unknown land
To that insect's larvae from an unknown land
To that baby fish from an unknown land
To that bird's chick from an unknown land
To that tree's flower from an unknown land
To that grass' sprout from an unknown land
